

WORDPAR International

Course Curriculum for IELTS

The IELTS is an internationally recognized test of English for seeking admission to colleges in and migration to English speaking countries such as the U.K., Australia, Canada, New Zealand and also the U.S.

Our training for the examination comprises the following modules and approach.

Grammar

Marathon review of basic and complex English grammar, as a foundation for the Writing and Speaking modules of the test.

Some of the tools taught in this module are very effective in cracking the reading and listening tests.

Reading Skills

Effective tools and strategies aimed at bettering reading skills. Use of linguistic tools to crack the test paper and decipher question types.

Writing

Introduction to and intensive training in writing Essays, Reports (for the Academic test) and Letters (for the General test).

Step-by-step development of writing skills, ranging from grammar and vocabulary, to content development and structuring of the composition.

Listening Skills

Strategic tools, a systematic approach to “preparing” for and improving listening comprehension. Graded Language Laboratory Exercises to ensure a high score.

Speaking Skills

Principles of composition, language production and organization of thought, used effectively to train in effective speech. Individual sessions with the trainer to address individual learning needs.

Delivery Mode

4 weeks of interactive classroom sessions (30 hrs)

Dedicated Language Laboratory for Listening practice

Individual sessions with trainer for Speaking and Writing

Duration 4 – 8 weeks

Option of attending multiple or subsequent batches for review

